and at the same time, has more growth potential from future prospects considering the usage of advanced technology in production.

Accordingly, the management of the Transferor Company and Transferee Company believes that after this proposed merger, the Transferee Company shall be in a position to utilize the manufacturing infrastructure of Transferor Company in a more efficient and better way with its modern and advanced technology.

Moreover, after the effectiveness of the Scheme, the Transferee Company shall apply for listing of its equity shares on BSE and NSE and the same will enhance the business value of both the Companies followed by the enhancement of liquidity and marketability of equity shares which will ultimately be beneficial to the public shareholders.

Furthermore, this Scheme of Arrangement for Amalgamation of the Transferor Company with the Transferee Company would result, inter-alia, in the following additional benefits:

- Enhancement of competitive strengths including financial resources;
- enhancement of economic value addition.
- Both companies operate in the same industry, allowing for diversification of products and a stronger customer base. This can result in improved operational efficiency, economies of scale, and overall competitiveness in the market which can help mitigate risks and increase the overall resilience of shareholders' portfolios;;
- Better management and focus on growing the businesses. The merger can create cross-selling opportunities between the merged entity's products. The shared customer base can be leveraged to introduce complementary products, upsell or cross-sell existing products, and maximize revenue potential.
- The combined scale and customer reach of the Merged Entity will enable it to compete effectively in the market;
- A larger growing company will mean enhanced financial and growth prospects for the people and organization connected therewith, and will be in public interest. The amalgamation will conducive for better and more efficient and economical control over the business and financial conduct of the Companies.
